NAOMEE Watts does not get much mileage from her famous name.

Although the sales agent at Active Property Sales in Middle Park shares her name, although spelt differently, with Australian film actress Naomi Watts, she has to work for her perks.

"I just wish my name would guarantee me the best table in a restaurant," she said.

Mrs Watts does enjoy the actress' famous movies and books, and combines the two in her book club at Middle Park.

"I enjoyed reading Memoirs of a Geisha and then we watched the movie," she said.

An agent with Active for three years, Mrs Watts said she joined the office "because of the honest and ethical practices of the agency and the principal."

"I love working with the people in my office and meeting different personalities," she said.

"They make life so interesting."
